Twelve cases of mumps were reported in Campbell for the week ending November 5, the health department revealed. Of the total of 22 cases reported in the county, other cases than those in Campbell were in: Alviso, 1; Los Altos, 1; Los Gatos, 4; Palo Alto, 2; Palo Alto rural, 2.

Scout Service Pins Presented At Kiwanis Club's Boy Scout Program

Campbell Kiwanians received Boy Scout service pins and enjoyed a program on scouting at their meeting Tuesday noon in the library clubrooms. William Wadsworth, scout executive from the Boy Scout County Council office, and Al Smith, agriculture group instructor at Campbell High School, were speakers at the meeting.

Mr. Wadsworth told the club that over 15 million people have been associated with the scouting organization in this country alone since the scouts were organized. Mr. Smith, a scout worker whose interests are chiefly in the camping program, described campsites used by the county council.

First site was at Swanton, the second at Felton, and the present is the Sierra camp near Longhorn on the north fork of the Tuolumne River. The 100-acre camp provides unlimited recreation facilities for a capacity of 200 scouts. Last summer 260 boys camped there. Arrangements for future use of the site were completed last Friday. Plans for its development include installation of water lines, eating and cooking areas, development of the water supply system, road improvement and construction of a permanent swimming pool.

Sanitation Board Readies Plans On Trunk Sewer

Passage of the $1,640,000 sewer bond issue for County Sanitation District 4, at Tuesday's election, assured construction of a trunk line sewer system for the area. However, failure of San Jose voters to vote a disposal plant which would service District 4, will mean that the trunk lines will hook onto the San Jose main line which empties into the bay.

Health authorities have already taken an unfavorable view of the practice of dumping raw sewage into the bay, and it is expected that state officials will move to forbid continuance of this practice which violates a law prohibiting pollution of coastal waters.

With the District 4 measure passed by a two-thirds vote, 5223 to 2336, construction is expected to begin next spring, with possibility that the new system will be put into operation late in 1950. District 4 Sanitation board will meet Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in the county courthouse to discuss the next step. Those on the board are: Supervisor Earl C. Campbell, chairman; W. V. Wood, Saratoga; Mayor James F. Thompson, Los Gatos, and Mayor Fred Watson, San Jose. Don Reinohl is the district engineer.

The district includes Saratoga, Los Gatos, nearby rural areas and that part of Campbell which is not included in the Campbell Sanitary District.

Sewage treatment and disposal systems in both Saratoga and Los Gatos have long been found inadequate to handle the greatly increased load since the war, and it was expected that expensive modernization measures would have to be carried out at both sewage farms in the event the measure did not pass last Tuesday.

Campbell Sanitary District is in much better condition. Its main trunk sewer was constructed with general obligation bond funds of $95,000, of which $50,000 in bonds are outstanding. This trunk sewer is necessary to and may be used as an integral part of the trunk sewerage system of District 4, according to Reinohl. Since present cost of construction of this sewer would be approximately $120,000, it appears reasonable to accept the offer of the Campbell District to relinquish ownership of this sewer to District 4 upon payment of the principal and interest payments as they become due in return for providing adequate trunk sewerage to the Campbell District.

CLASH FRIDAY

Campbell High School Buccaneers and the Bellarmine Prep Bells will tangle Friday night at 8 on Townsend Field in Santa Clara. The teams are rated as just about equals. Both teams recently defeated Santa Clara High, Campbell with a score of 19-13, and Bellarmine with a 14-6 tally. This is the first grid clash for the two schools, and promises to be an exciting tussle.

During the meeting Laurence J. Hill was awarded a scouting pin for service. Boy Scout Marvin Strong presented other pins for scout service to J. B. Arends, Lowell Benson, G. E. Farley, Antonio Ferro, Carl B. Field, Ray Fish, J. G. Gomes, Ira Grim, William C. Henley, Art Mayo, Dr. W. R. Morgan, Clarence Nelson, Mark Purnum, Dave Sanders, Herb Shadle and Ross Trowbridge.

Jesse Holt was the guest high school student, and was introduced by C. P. Klassen. Visitors were Gary Carsten of Modesto and Dr. Joseph Johannes of Campbell.

Attendance pins were awarded J. M. Dahl, five years of perfect attendance; Martin S. Walsh, nine years, and Carl B. Field, 16 years. Next week's Kiwanis meeting will be an interclub and ladies' night to be held Wednesday with the Ben Lomond Club at the latter community.

South Seas And Proposition One For Rotarians

William C. Henley, Campbell Elementary School District Superintendent, urged a "Yes" vote on Proposition One when he spoke before the Campbell Rotary Club Monday on school needs and expansion problems. He told the group that the school bond measure was the only means proposed so far to eliminate overcrowding of schools in needy districts.

In the local district, he said, the school was bonded for $325,000 in 1946 and $277,000 in 1948. The district has reached its five percent maximum, he pointed out, and has received $150,000 in state emergency funds.

Cel Gerevas was chairman of the day, and introduced Henley and a visitor, Dr. D. C. Ray of Pocatello, Idaho, who was a guest of his son-in-law, Homer H. Hyde.

Dr. J. F. Snyder reported that Frank Silva, who has been hospitalized for weeks, is improving. The board reported it had voted a donation of $25 for the Pioneer Club.

After the business meeting, during which plans were made for a Ladies night in December, the group viewed color films of the South Sea Islands. President Forrest Reese introduced G. E. Duff, motion picture representative of the Standard Oil Company of California. Duff showed the picture and gave a brief introductory talk. The film program was arranged by Ed Hubert, program chairman of the month.

He leaves two sisters, Mrs. Mollie Dies of Bakersfield, Mrs. Cox of Alameda, and a brother, Leonard Fulton, Hollis, Oklahoma.

Editorial

Many a homeowner has learned through sad experience that a new piece of furniture can make a roomful of trouble when it is placed among worn furnishings. When you add a neat new piece, the rest of the room appointments take on a shabby appearance. One look and you know something must be done.

The same situation prevails in Campbell's main business district since paving of Campbell Avenue has been completed. Here we have a new, smooth, clean street. The sidewalks and gutters look and are filthy.

Some merchants make a half-hearted attempt to clean in front of their shops, but what do they do? They sweep the trash and dirt into the gutter. Comes a clean gust of wind and the rubbish leaps back to the sidewalk again in a dusty swirl, spreading over the momentarily clean sidewalk and scattering on to the next shop to join the neighbor's rubbish. Next day the merchant sweeps again, in the same way. He doesn't clean up his place, just restacks the trash for the next time.

Candy and cigarette dealers can tell which are the most popular brands in town just by reading the sidewalks and gutters.

Campbell is a growing community. Its residents are supposed to take pride in their town, but how can you be proud of a trash heap on the main thoroughfare?

Now that the Christmas gift buying days are here, this would be a splendid time to begin a daily sidewalk cleaning program. If each merchant would handle the walk in the front of his shop, sweep it clean and hose it down if necessary, and place the rubbish in his trash can, the town would take on a brighter appearance in one day. Those who failed to cooperate would soon be shamed into joining up by the cleanliness of the neighboring store's sidewalk. Should the breezes carry rubbish to the clean walks, the non-sweeper could probably be hastened into his cleaning tasks by a few warm words from his more civic-minded neighbors.

Legion Auxiliary Observes Fifth Anniversary

Fifth anniversary of the American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 596, Campbell, was observed at the group's meeting Wednesday night in the IOOF Hall. The American Legion Post presented the auxiliary a beautifully decorated birthday cake which was served to both organizations.

Mrs. Pierre Casarung of Palo Alto, 13th District president, made her official visit to the unit, and Mrs. Lillie Brannaman, national committee woman from Palo Alto, was also a guest. Other visitors included members of Willow Glen and Palo Alto units.

Mrs. Rex K. Fuller read the Gettysburg address, an annual occasion at the Campbell unit meeting which is closest to November 19, the date when part of the Gettysburg battlefield was set aside as a cemetery.

During the business meeting, plans for the monthly party for hospitalized veterans were announced. The party will be held on Tuesday, November 15, at the Palo Alto Veterans Administration Hospital. The unit will participate again this year in the Christmas gift shop at the hospital. Gifts are donated by units in the district and each group works one day during the first week in December helping the veterans to select gifts for their families. The gifts are wrapped and mailed at no expense to the veterans. This cost is paid out of the fund received from the sale of poppies. Campbell's unit has ordered 3000 poppies for its May sale.

The card party, to be given by the Legion post for the building fund on November 14 in the high school gymnasium, was announced.

At the close of the meeting a short program was presented by Miss Lorraine Wood who presented a piano solo, and by Mrs. Fuller, who gave a humorous reading and closed the program by singing "The Perfect Day."

Next meeting of the unit has been scheduled for December 14. No other meeting will be held in November due to the Thanksgiving holiday.

Robert L. Drexel Killed In Crash On Pacheco Pass

Tragic death of Robert L. Drexel, 34, chief investigator for District Attorney N. J. Menard's office, was reported late Tuesday night from Gilroy where he was killed in a highway accident in Pacheco Pass.

Drexel, who made his home with his family at 145 Bland Avenue, Campbell, was returning from the east where he had bought a new car. The vehicle crashed into a truck-trailer and Drexel was thrown from his car under the wheels of the huge vehicle which jackknifed and passed over his body.

A native of Richmond, Drexel was graduated from San Jose State College where he was a football tackle during the 1936 and '37 seasons. He had formerly attended the Washington State College police school. After graduating in 1938 from San Jose State College, he became assistant to William Wiltnerberger, head of the college's police school at that time.

In November 1939, Drexel joined the Palo Alto Police Department as a patrolman, holding that post until his appointment to the district attorney's office in 1941.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Drexel of Richmond. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Ann Drexel of Campbell, son Warner Lee, 8, of Campbell; brother, Karl Drexel, Richmond, and a sister, Mrs. Helen Seaton of Richmond. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Shuerer of San Francisco. His widow is a sister of San Mateo County Juvenile Probation Officer Anthony Lovoi.

Drexel was a member of Observatory Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West, No. 177, San Jose, and the Exchange Club of San Jose.

Farewell services will be held Saturday at 11 a.m. from the Darling-Fischer Garden Chapel, San Jose.

Footlighters Delight Local Audiences With Well-Rounded Play Production

"Double Door," the Elizabeth McFadden play which had a recent successful run in New York, made an equally triumphant appearance in Campbell, recently, when the Footlighters, local dramatics group, produced the opus at the Campbell High School auditorium.

The Footlighters' latest production played to appreciative audiences both nights of its run. All of the parts were well acted, although the work of Thais Ackerman as the older sister, Victoria, again showed this experienced local thespian's ability to create a definite character, this one unpleasant. Also remarkable was the acting of Ida Levenberg, as Anne, the young bride. Both were outstanding.

Warren Brown as Rip, the brother of Victoria, brought the audience a much more polished actor than in his previous roles in other plays here. A newcomer to Footlighter productions, Bert Legg, who played Dr. Sully, was a welcome addition to the group.

Campbell is fortunate to have such an active little theater group in its midst. A fine job was done by all, both front and backstage, for "Double Door," and the new set, made under the direction of LBen Howard, was outstanding.

Members of the cast were: Avery, Leila Merritt; Telson, Norm Corvello; Louise, Dorothy Mauser; William, Harvey Sheeder; Anne Darrow, Ida Levenberg; Caroline Van Bret, Betty Legg; Victoria Van Bret, Thais Ackerman; Mr. Chase, LBen Howard; Mr. Neff, Dan Gould; Rip Van Bret, Warren Brown; Dr. John Sully,

MY HERITAGE

In the country fair, mid field and trees,
Lies the valley that gave me birth;
It has shaped my life thru all the years;
It has given me love of the earth.
Tho I have trod the city streets—
And toiled in the marts of trade,
My heart was still in the hills and dales,
I have yearned for the oak tree's shade.
The mountain, rising with graceful sweep,
Has led my soul to the height,
The river, sweeping away to sea,
Has taught me the power of might.
The lofty trees, the bright field flowers
Have been ever a symbol to me
Of the priceless gift to mortals given,
By Him who died on the tree.
—Clara Beck Baldwin.

First Report

By JOHN H. HOSE

THE downstate train was late, and he hurried across the dirty, brick sidewalk that lay between the B. and
O. depot and the East-West Pennsylvania station. Entering the latter he noted, after a reassuring glance at the train bulletins, that the Chicago mail was late too. For a moment, he just stood there looking around the grimy waiting room.

It hadn't changed much in two years. The radiators hissed forth the fetid steam which always seem to pour in such quantities from their escape valves. Another layer or two of coal dust had been added to the buff and maroon decorative scheme of the ancient building.

He slid the small bag under one of the uncomfortable benches as he took a seat. He tried to relax, but it

He remembered her as he loved her most. The night of the prom in the wine-colored velvet gown she had made for herself.

wasn't easy. He was about six foot tall, thin, even hungry looking. His pallor was accented by the heavy black shock of hair. He wasn't wearing a hat, and the suit was obviously not the product of the best tailor. The suit didn't seem right.

Somehow you expected he would have chosen only the best. He sat looking about him as though it were a new experience to be seeing people.

There was the usual woman with a pair of sleepy children—tired to the point of being irritable but too excited to sleep. The other group seemed to be there to see the young man in their midst off to college. He was a pink-cheeked youth, obviously setting forth after his spring vacation. He was quite resigned to their advice, and apparently bored by their attention.

The only other occupant of the waiting room was a woman he judged to be about 40 or 50 years of age. Her supreme intention in life seemed, however, to be an effort to conceal that fact from the world at large. Her hair was definitely too blond, and her makeup was not being shown to its best advantage in the glaring light of the depot.

How long he sat there, he scarcely noticed. After such a long time, a few hours delay wouldn't—couldn't make much difference. She would know that the train was late, and would be waiting for him. Yes, she would be waiting for him; he reas-ured himself. In the past few months, he had entertained moments of doubt about her being there. The thought of not meeting her in Chicago sent his heart racing anxiously.

From somewhere within the confines of the ticket office, the three jangling bells pierced his consciousness, rousing him from his fears.
With the hissing of air brakes and assorted squeaking and grinding, the two engines hauling the passenger train loomed out of the darkness with a string of cars behind. He hurried forward to where the coaches would load passengers, and finally mounted the steps behind the others.

"Now," he thought as the train ground out of the station some few minutes later, "only four more hours." He closed his eyes and tried to remember what she looked like.

She was taller than most girls, with blue eyes, and a little pointed chin which gave her that air of independence that always amused him.
But her beautiful hair, which he liked to see in rich, golden, French braids, was easily her crowning glory. The last time he saw her, she had been wearing a bright green hat with a pert feather pointing sky-ward like

Safety Talk Given At Orchard City Grange Session

An illustrated lecture on traffic safety was the feature of the lecture program of the Orchard City Grange meeting Tuesday night in the Campbell IOOF Hall. Lecturer Wesley Youngclaus introduced the speaker, William J. Moore, managing director of the San Jose-Santa Clara chapter of the National Safety Council.

An $11,000 fund was raised to start the San Jose-Santa Clara Chapter, Moore told the group, and purpose of the chapter is to continue plant safety programs begun by manufacturing concerns, in addition to making the general public safety conscious. Moore also described the safety education campaign in the bicycle traffic field. There are 15,000 bicycles in San Jose, he said, and the large part of them are owned and operated by youngsters who must be educated in the care and use of bicycles. A prize is to be awarded in the safety contest in the near future.

A film entitled "Screw Driver" was shown by the speaker. In a Grange obligation ceremony conducted by Past Master J. C. Gordon, Mrs. Luella Whitney was taken into membership. Also elected to membership were Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Peacock.

A resolution was passed by the Grange to enter a community service contest, a civic project to be decided upon at a later date.

Men of the Grange will cook and serve a ham dinner on December 13, at 6 p.m., with proceeds going to the Grange building fund.

A proposal is being studied which would permit the use of the Grange lot at Fourth and Sanford Streets to be rented for business parking to relieve the congested parking in the growing business section.

Lambert Skillman spoke on the trip which he and Mrs. Skillman made recently to Seattle, Washington, across the northern states to Minnesota, Great Lakes region, New York, Pennsylvania and back across the southern states. Refreshments were served in the banquet hall.

Home Economics Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Mae Walsh, November 11 at 3 p.m. Election of Grange officers will be conducted at the November 22 session.

Laddie Comes Home After Long Absence

A wandering dog who returned this week to the home of his original owner after an absence of a year and seven months, has confronted Mr. and Mrs. Edward Benevich of Whiteoaks Road with a serious problem.

They like the dog and would like to keep him; however, during his absence he has obviously been well-cared for by someone who has been able to keep him at home.

Laddie, about three years old, is a collie with travelling habits. Three years ago, the Benevichs bought him from Jack Farnum. Laddie was then about 10 months old. Laddie from the beginning of

Stitching Club Plans Trip

Ada Rebekah Lodge Stitching Club will meet Wednesday, November 16, at 10:30 a.m. in the Campbell IOOF Hall. They will journey from there to the IOOF Children's Home in Gilroy to have a potluck lunch and to present jellies, fruits and other articles to the home.

All members are invited to attend and are requested to provide their own table service. Further information may be obtained by phoning 3483 or 2044.

MRS. HATTIE DE PUY visited relatives in Kalamazoo, Michigan for two months this summer, and has recently returned to her Campbell home. She reports that the weather in Michigan, her home state, was delightful during the past summer.

his stay with the Benevichs, was a wanderer. They disliked tying him up all the time, so the dog was frequently gone for two or three days at a time.

Finally, Laddie was picked up by the poundman. Some people on Shelly Road bought him and gave him a home. Then, one day, Laddie came home again. Whenever he was returned, he showed up again at the Benevichs, only to wander away again. Finally, 19 months ago, he disappeared. No more was heard of him until this week, when he came home again to the Benevichs.

The problem is this, Mr. and Mrs. Benevich would like to know who has been caring for Laddie. That person has kept him in good health and must have some means of making him stay home. Does that person want Laddie, or should the Benevichs keep him, and will he stay home?

Laddie is a beautiful young collie, has protuberant lower teeth. Mrs. Benevich may be reached at Campbell 3651, or Route 1, Box 154-L Whiteoaks Road, Campbell, if the former master of Laddie will contact her.

Explorer Posts Of County Hold Bridge Of Honor

Santa Clara County Senior Explorer Posts recently held their Bridge of Honor and ball at the American Legion building in San Jose. Post Two, Campbell District Mothers' Club, was invited to be hostess group for the ball, and served refreshments. Those on the committee were: Mrs. Dorothy Roseborough and Mrs. Molly Sismore, chairmen; Mesdames Robert D. Hershback, Margaret Pankoski, Juanita Young, Ruth Carlson and Miss Marilyn Toy.

Post Two started as Boy Scout Troop 36, sponsored by Moreland School, nearly 10 years ago, and was originally under the leadership of Lawrence Miller. He continued to assist when Robert Hershback became the leader, and continued under the succeeding leaders, James Peterson and the present scoutmaster Floyd Greenleaf.

In noting the history of the post, Mrs. Ruth Shepherd Carlson, president of Post II Mothers' Club, said the Senior Post moved to Campbell when its members became explorers. The group of Scout Mothers and Dads had become so enthusiastic, she stated, that they continued as two Scout Mothers' groups and Dads' Committees. "Although the Troop 36 Moreland Group had to leave, we hope temporarily, for Campbell, we, the parents, feel that Moreland Scouting participation in the Campbell district has filled a very urgent need of welding parents teachers and those interested in youth, and was a great step in community living.

"Scouting, to be successful, must have good leadership and interested and participating parents. We have had the best. That we feel we have had from the Central Office, Scoutmasters, Advisors, Committeemen, Scout Mothers and Dads. Families who play together usually stay together. Scouting does that and more. In their motto we believe, 'Be Prepared!'"

MRS. N. A. COWDERY, 80 N. Second Street, Campbell, has been named a $10 winner in the Old Stove Roundup sponsored recently by the Gas Appliance Society of California and local dealers. Mrs. Cowdery won the award for having one of the oldest stoves turned in during the contest. Her dealer was Accardi's of Campbell.

Talent A'Plenty At High School Variety Show

High School students put on a top variety show Tuesday morning at the assembly, with specialty numbers and a minstrel show taking top billing. Kenneth Wallace, dramatics teacher, directed. Frank Mantia was the Interlocutor for the minstrel show, with other parts in the act taken by Betty McCrary, Mary Emmer, Joline Howard, Edith Olsen, Pat Jolly and Iris Gaultieri, Louise Tordt handled the choreography.

"Campbell Cuties" performers were Shirley Kesterson, Darlene Mink, Lucille Ely, Pauline Cleveland, Barbara McBain, Louise Fiqua, Marilyn Derry and Carol Olsen. Costumes were by Darlene Mink.

Cupertino Youth Center Gets $1000 From Successful PTA Carnival

The Cupertino Youth Center Building will very soon be ready for use as a result of the highly successful Halloween carnival given by the Parent-Teacher Association of Cupertino Union school when receipts were over one thousand dollars.

Thousands of costumed children and their parents who jammed the school patio and corridors and stood in line for the hayride to the partially completed Youth Center Building voted the evening a great success as community entertainment.

Dale Boyer and Jeanie McCoy of the eighth grade were crowned Carnival King and Queen.

Highest receipts of the evening were turned in by the Japanese people of the community as the result of donations and a food booth under the direction of Mrs. C. M. Izu, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Masao Najima. Mr. Najima was also commended for his skillful decoration of several booths.

The carnival kitchen conducted by Mrs. A. L. McAllister, and the bingo game operated by the Dads Club, who donated their own prizes, ranked second and third in revenue.

Close cinders were the hayride and the cake walk.

Among the concessions which also did especially well were the Girl Scout popcorn stand, the Boy Scout comic book booth, and the pumpkin pie booth run by the Cupertino Grange. Girl Scouts who manned the popcorn stand were Claudia Caldwell, Martha McAllister, Yvonne Soso, Sharon Thibault, and Mary Shinn. Boy Scouts at the comic book stand were Mack Heck, Ned Joslin, Pete Estrada, Gary Tipps, Bill and Luther Harper.

Sheldon A. Hawke, assisted by Dads Club members and high school boys efficiently handled parking of the large number of cars.

M. Kucher and Nathan Harrell were responsible for lighting and the loud speaker system.

Mrs. William Lundell, carnival chairman, and Mrs. Phil Bagar, PTA president, express their special thanks to Principal D. J. Sedgewick and the teachers to all the Cupertino and Monte Vista merchants who donated so generously, to all PTA members, and all members of outside organizations who contributed to the success of the affair.

"It would be impossible to name everyone who helped," says Mrs. Lundell. "It was truly a community project. I wish to express my appreciation to all, and I hope each person who helped in any way feels a sense of satisfaction at having had a part in its overwhelming success."

TB Association Seal Sale Methods

Board and committee members of the Santa Clara County Tuberculosis Association met Tuesday night at 7:30 at the association's headquarters in San Jose, 211 Balbach. Dr. Anita Laton, president, presided with more than 40 present from all parts of the county.

Dr. Laton summarized important events which had taken place since last board meeting, held in July, as follows:

Addition to the staff of new health educator, Miss Patricia Hill with a degree of Master of Public Health from the University of California; releasing of the second X-ray unit from the County Hospital where for the past 20 months it has X-rayed more than 12,000 patients admitted to hospital and clinics; with plans being formulated for its use elsewhere preferably a general hospital where incidence of TB is not suspected but known to be high; and membership in the Community Welfare Council recently organized presenting health and welfare agencies throughout the county.

Of special interest to the group was the demonstration of Seal Sale methods and procedures conducted by general chairman for San Jose, Roger Williams, and staff members of the TB association; Ann Castellanos, executive secretary; Octavia Sanguinetti, office manager, and Louise Shane, addressograph operator.

Williams stated that the list of 80,000 residents of the valley will be mailed Christmas Seals Monday, November 21. Boy Scouts from every community in Santa Clara County, he said, are participating by placing the posters in all business sections and public buildings next week.

Lodge; Marylynne Preston, Stella Lodge; Hertha Roggach, Hesperian Lodge; Barbara Emley, Saratoga Lodge; Naomi Farley, Ada Lodge and the hostess, who is the vice grand of Philotesian Lodge, Cupertino.

Hobo Hop Theme For Club Dance

Los Gatos Gymkhana Club will sponsor a Hobo Hop Saturday at 9 p.m. in the Saratoga IOOF Hall. The public is invited to the dance. Tickets may be obtained at the door, or by calling Saratoga 3705. Co-chairmen of the dance are Mrs. Marian Phillips and Mrs. Michele LaTerza. John Johnson is president of the club. Refreshments will be served. There will be special awards for costumes.

Enrollment Soars In Elementary Schools of County

Comparative enrollment figures for 1945 and 1949 reveal a tremendous growth in student enrollment in Santa Clara County since the war. The October 31 enrollment for the public schools of the county, exclusive of Adult Education, in 1945 was 33,504. At the close of the tenth calendar month in 1949 the total stands at 48,600, an increase of 45 per cent.

As might be expected, the greatest percent of increase came in the junior college where returning G. I.s swelled enrollment figures from 699 to 1157 over the four year period for a gain of 65 per cent. The next largest increase occurred in the elementary grades where a bumper crop of war babies together with an unprecedented influx of new people to this valley have helped to add 11,197 children to the 1945 totals for a 46 per cent increase.

While growth in high schools of the county has been less spectacular than in other areas, growth here has also been rapid and steady, recording a 30 per cent increase. Gain in both elementary and high school grades has been more rapid outside the San Jose Unified school district than within. This is revealed by the following figures:

San Jose Elementary	19%
County Elementary (exclusive of Palo Alto)	60%
San Jose High Schools	22%
County High Schools	43%

Palo Alto has kept pace with the elementary schools of the county with 60 per cent growth but has fallen behind in the high schools where only 3 per cent increase was recorded.

A study of the enrollment by grades indicates that 60 per cent of the pupils in the elementary schools (grades 1-8) are in the first four grades. This suggests that the greatest swelling in pupil enrollment is ahead. Assuming that replacements will at least equal the present first grade enrollment it may be expected that this rising swell of student enrollment will work its way upward through the grades reaching a peak about 1955.

From the standpoint of individual districts many increases (1945-49) are phenomenal. Listed among such districts are: Alum Rock (115%), Alviso (170%), Cambrian (125%), Campbell (81%), Encinal (158%), Franklin-McKinley (51%), Gilroy (52%), Jefferson (52%), Lakeside (92%), Los Altos (102%), Los Gatos (71%), Moreland (109%), Oak Grove (66%), Saratoga (52%), Union (225%), Whisman (81%), Cupertino (97%), Campbell High (68%), Live Oak High (80%).

Needless to say, most of the schools listed above have found it necessary to enlarge their school plants. This has been accomplished for the most part through the sale of long-term bonds. The need has been so great in many of the districts, however, that this source

New Term Plans Discussion Topic For Vice Grands

Vice grands of district No. 3, Rebekah Lodges met Friday evening at the home of Alveina Nelson on the Saratoga-Sunnyvale Road in Cupertino. Discussion of plans for the new term, which will commence in January, highlighted the evening. Lodge executives outlined program events for future meetings of lodges of the district and arrangements were completed for events scheduled for the balance of the present term.

Of top interest to members of the order will be the district meeting and official visit of Clair Freer, president of the Rebekah Assembly of California, December 14, 1949.

An autumn theme was chosen by Mrs. Nelson for the decor in her dining room where refreshments were served. The conclusion of business, Henrietta Marcotte assisted the hostess.

Those present included Mrs. Marcotte, district deputy president of District 3; Marie Gerrans, district deputy marshal, and vice grands Louise Guidice, Josephine Lodge; Marche McKinley, Sunnyvale Lodge; Myrtle Elam, Clara Lodge; Olive Speegle, San Jose Health Service met under the chairmanship of the board's president, Dr. Dwight Bissell, to observe the first anniversary of the service and to consider the annual report presented by Dr. Rush Faville, medical director of the service.

Mental Health Service

The Mental Health Service of Santa Clara County was host November 3 to 17 staff social workers representing eight public and private health and welfare agencies. The social workers participated in a seminar on "The Importance of the Individual Interview." Under seminar leader, Dr. Fred W. Bradshaw, staff psychiatrist of the Mental Health Service, the group considered an interview reported by Miss Elizabeth Kitteridge of the American Red Cross, San Jose chapter.

There was agreement that since social work is a professional skill that aims to "help the client help himself," one principle of sound practice is the requirement that the client accept responsibility for requesting the service which the health or welfare agency provides. A clear definition of these services is the responsibility of the social worker.

The seminar, initiated in May as a part of the community services program of Mental Health Service, was attended by Mrs. Anna Marie Long, juvenile division of the Palo Alto Police department; Miss Doris Helin and Miss Jane Moffitt, Santa Clara County hospital; Mr. E.C. Baldock, Home of Benevolence; Miss Shirley Maxwell, Mrs. Orpha Quadros, Miss Tressie Beratte, and Miss Helen Muzzio, Santa Clara County Welfare department; Mrs. Ruth Maher, Dr. George Muench, and Mr. Keith Billman, Mental Health Service of Santa Clara County; Miss Mildred Hamilton and Miss Elizabeth Kitteridge, American Red Cross; Mrs. Esther Fink and Mrs. Honor B. Adams, Palo Alto Unified school district, and Miss Mary Genese and Miss Margaret Johnson, guests from the county welfare department.

Rosario and Antonio Give Thrilling Dance Program For Concert Series

By J. B. JAMISON

Community Concert Association of Los Gatos got off to a running seasonal start November 1 with its presentation of the Spanish dancers, Rosario and Antonio with supporting pianist Mendoza and guitarist de la Mata. It would be difficult to figure how four people could furnish more entertainment. A capacity audience filled the high school auditorium and the demand for tickets was greater than the seats available.

The show lasted a good two hours with never a dull moment, due to the great variety of the dances, the beautiful Spanish, Peruvian and Central American costumes, the thoughtfully balanced program and the incomparable skill of the artists.

Rosario and Antonio are a handsome pair, celebrating their twentieth anniversary year as dancing partners. The easy perfection of their work is better understood with this in mind. Any artist will grasp the remorseless drill that makes a difficult art look easy. It is commendable too, that such dancers are as a rule—and in this instance—small, compact people, exquisitely balanced and deceptively strong. Grace comes from strength—not length.

To one unfamiliar with Spanish dancing one of the obvious features is the immense number of what might be called stock gestures or figures. The age of the profession is betokened by this elaborate ritual or stylization in which hands, arms, body, costumes, music—as well as feet—have integral parts. Spanish dancing as exhibited by this world renowned pair bears somewhat the relation to ordinary dancing that Shakespeare does to Mother Goose. Perhaps the most interesting was the Peruvian "Fruit Vendor" and the Inca Dance, "Huayno," in which costumes and routine were gradually beautiful and the comedy irresistible.

Rodriguez Mendoza is a pianist of unusual virtuosity, a technical giant, whose playing of the Scriabine "Nocturne for the Left Hand"

Arthur Kent To Sing For Concert Group

Baritone Arthur Kent will present a concert Friday night at 8:30 o'clock under auspices of the Los Gatos Community Concert Association. Members and their guests will be admitted. Kent, American born and educated, is a member of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

was especially good. He shone most, however, as a thorough expert at dance accompaniment, a most fortunate choice for Rosario and Antonio. The guitarist, Garcia de la Mata, was delightful. It is the first time in years we have heard real guitar playing. He exploited all the facets of his instrument and furnished a charming foil to the rest of the program.

An amusing incident was the terrific "dust" thrown up by Rosario's train in the last number. The "dust" however, turned out to be powdered rosin which had, at the artist's request, been spread on the floor to prevent slipping. The stage had been thoroughly scrubbed.

If the delightful evening is a preview of the season's calibre you'd better get tickets now.

From E. E. Meredith of Fairmont, W. Va.: "I remember when school kids would get but five cents worth of foolscap paper — and it would have to last them during the entire, four-month term."

From Mrs. Mary Stewart of Chicago: "I remember when the family doctor would call to see a sick member of the family — and examine all six or eight of the children by having them stick out their tongues for him to see, or by lifting their eyelids. Then he would open his big heavy valise and produce little bottles of pills for each. With a lot of conversation and advice thrown in, the visit took about an hour and would cost Mother one dollar."

From Anon: "I remember when Elizabeths were known as 'Lizzies,' Marthas as 'Matties,' Sarahs as 'Sallies' and Margaretas as 'Maggies.'"

From Mrs. F. A. Locke of Omaha, Neb.: "I remember when I could buy a complete round of thick steak for 10 cents... country butter for 10 cents... watermelons so large you could hardly carry them for five cents... and fresh eggs at five cents a dozen. Those days are gone, but not forgotten."

Dale Carnegie

Author of "HOW TO WIN FRIENDS and INFLUENCE PEOPLE"

HERE'S A RECIPE against fear that is guaranteed to work. I'll illustrate it by telling the story of Raymond L. Osborne, Brentwood, Missouri.

In October, 1943, he was assigned to set up a radar station behind the Japanese lines on Treasury Island in the southwest Pacific. A company of New Zealand riflemen was sent to protect his unit from Japanese attack.

The first four days were calm and peaceful; everything was as lovely as a lake at sunset. Instructions were issued not to shoot in the event of an attack; the responsibility of beating off the Japs was up to the New Zealand boys.

The fifth night Mr. Osborne went to sleep in his jungle hammock which was fastened to a mahogany tree. The night was as black as the inside of a magician's bag. The only sounds to be heard were the croaking of the frogs, the screams of the cockatoos and parakeets which always began at sun down.

At about midnight he awoke from a sound sleep with, seemingly, every gun in the southwest Pacific roaring. The Japs had attacked by surprise and were coming through the New Zealand lines, coming into the camp in a Banzai attack, screaming and shooting. The attack was so intense that Mr. Osborne did not see how anyone could live through it. The worst part was that he and his company had been instructed not to fire back, for the New Zealanders would think they were the enemy and would fire at the rifle blazes.

Mr. Osborne was so frightened that he could not crawl the 30 feet distance to his fox hole. There he was, terrified, in a jungle night.

He said to himself, "I'll sell myself as dearly as possible." Then he lay down behind the mahogany tree and got out his knife; the very doing of this made him less fear-filled. Then he said to himself, "I have a better chance than the Japs have. I am on my own ground, I know my way about."

He wasn't afraid now; his alertness doubled. The fighting continued until daybreak, then the Japs retreated. Mr. Osborne was not hurt in any way. The moment he began to prepare to defend himself... began to do something... his fear lessened.

How overseas service puts the world by your telephone

1. For doing business and keeping in touch with friends, overseas telephone service has become an everyday tool. In its twenty-two years, the calling rate has jumped from about 2,300 calls a year to 600,000. Today, your voice can be sent over short-wave radio to ninety-four per cent of the world's telephones...over circuits as long as 8,000 miles.

3. In 1927, the lowest overseas rate from the West was $84.00. Now the maximum to most countries is $12.00 (plus tax) for three minutes. Many calls cost less. Making it possible to call almost anyone, at low cost, is another way we've made your telephone more valuable.

2. Skilled technicians in the circuit control room keep constant watch on their equipment to make sure your voice can hurdle the earth and still sound about as clear as a cross-town call. And overseas service is easy to use. Your Long Distance operator will give you the rates, the best time to call... and set up an appointment call for you if you wish.

Six-Inch Sermon

† REV. ROBERT H. HARPER †

Memory Selection: Psalms 40:3. The Hebrews had a poetic form all their own, known as Parallelism, in which one line is balanced with another, usually in the repetition of thought. Generally there are two lines, but there are also groupings of three and four lines. Jesus himself sometimes spoke in poetry, as in the triplet beginning, "Ask, and ye shall receive." The chief example of Hebrew poetry is found in Psalms. The 24th Psalm, considered today, was evidently written to be used on a great occasion—the bringing of the ark to Jerusalem, soon after David had made the city his capital. The bearers of the ark, at the foot of the hill leading to the gates, asked, "Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord?" Before the gates, several questions and answers were exchanged between the wardens and the bearers of the ark. Only at the last response, which must have been the watch word of the day, did the gates open, that the procession might move into the city.

This Psalm came into use to express the attitude of worshippers going into the Lord's house. So may the Psalm be an illuminating one to us as we go into the Lord's house to worship. Let us go with clean hands and a pure heart and we shall receive a blessing.

The Psalm shows that God is the great Creator, and that he demands more than ritual, that clean hands and pure hearts must be the chief sacrifice we make unto him. The symbols of our worship must be expressions of our souls' aspirations toward God and of our faith in him, demonstrated by pure living.

750 Subscribers To See Cut In Phone Rates

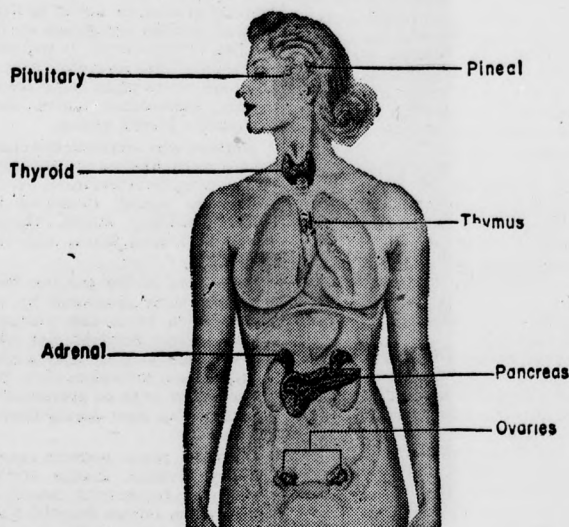

A total of more than 750 telephone subscribers in the Campbell area will benefit by the enlargement of the exchange base rate area which became effective on November 1.

W. E. Williams, telephone company district manager, said that a savings of over $5500 annually will be realized by these users. Most of these subscribers will realize a reduction in their monthly telephone bills by elimination or reduction of mileage charges they now pay for Campbell service. Such charges are entirely eliminated for about 455 subscribers and reduced for about 16 subscribers.

The enlarged base rate area, he said, will also give an immediate reduction of 50 cents in the monthly rates of some 311 residences suburban telephone users and will permit them to receive urban grades of service, when available, without the application of mileage charges.

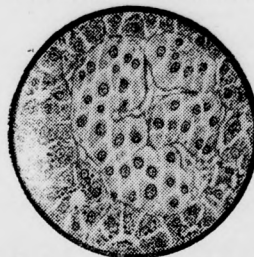

The Human Hormone Factory

THE ENDOCRINE SYSTEM

The glands of internal secretion presently recognized are those shown in this "soft x-ray" drawing by Paul Peck, well-known medical artist. Only recently has the pancreas been included in this company—It having been established that insulin, the substance formed by the islets of Langerhans in the pancreas, is a true hormone. The products of all these glands are vital to full development and complete health (though the thymus begins a slow process of atrophy after babyhood). Each gland or pair of glands secretes into the blood stream one or more hormones, each having a specific function and it is assumed—each affecting directly or indirectly functioning of other endocrine glands.

HEALTHY PANCREAS

The light central area is an islet of Langerhans, which secretes insulin whose function is to promote the metabolism of sugar in the blood stream after digestion.

DIABETIC PANCREAS

The islet of Langerhans here has deteriorated into a glassy, pellucid mass, incapable of secreting insulin.

Grammar School Contingent Greets County Staff

They welcomed County Superintendent O. S. Hubbard and his staff to their new quarters at 2320 Moorpark Avenue in the Campbell School District.

In addition to Mr. Henley, the group included Mrs. Dorothy Royce, Campbell Elementary School principal; William Shuey, San Tomas school principal; John Duncan, Moorpark School principal, district supervisors and secretaries.

Ex-Campbell Man, T. A. Cutting, Author Of Manual

Chemical Publishing Company of Brooklyn, N.Y., has just issued a book by Theodore A. Cutting entitled "Manual of Spectroscopy." It is intended as an aid to assayers, chemists and prospectors in the analysis of rocks and ores. A common rock is ordinarily a mixture of complex minerals, whose complete analysis is very difficult. The spectroscopy greatly simplifies the task.

Author Cutting, after taking out several patents on new types of spectroscopes, and for several years manufacturing them for sale, also did extensive work in practical analysis for miners. The book tells both how to make and how to use the instruments.

Besides the "Spectroscopy," Cutting has written books on geology, the history of Campbell, and numerous booklets on amateur electricity and science.

Cutting, as will be remembered, was a teacher of mathematics in the local high school from 1925 to 1937. He was an early president of the Kiwanis Club and the Chamber of Commerce, and a director of the Community Chest. A year ago he moved from N. Central Avenue, Campbell to Arastadero Road, near Los Altos.

Files $175,000 Accident Suit

Mrs. Marcella Cullum of 28 Casey Road, widow of E. E. Cullum, 34, who was killed August 24 due to a fall from a freight train at Sunnyvale, has filed suit in federal court, San Francisco, against the Southern Pacific Company. Charging that the company "failed and refused to employ a sufficient number of brakemen," the suit seeks $175,000 for Mrs. Cullum and her three children, Shirley, Donna and Martha.

Cullum, a brakeman, was seriously injured when he fell from the freight train as the result of a switching accident. He died early the next day at Community Service Hospital, San Jose. He had been in the employ of the company since 1941.

MORELAND SCHOOL NEWS

Children's Book Week will be celebrated throughout the nation November 13 to 19 with the slogan, "Make Friends With Books." The Moreland School Library hopes to make this their slogan for the year.

During library periods this year we have divided into two teams. Then we see which team gets the best score for identifying author and book on our Book Quiz. We also are putting questions in a question box to help our Quiz game.

On Friday morning, November 18, we hope every child from kindergarten through the eighth grade will dress as their favorite well-known book character. We will parade in the Assembly Hall before three judges, who will make awards for the best costumes.

Awards will be made on basis of resemblance to the book character as depicted by the author, and the child's impersonation of the character. We hope every child will be in the parade. Also that many parents will come to view the parade.

Our judges will be Mrs. George Payne, former Trustee of Moreland, Mrs. P. Weinberger, formerly with Scott Foreman & Co., in Chicago, Illinois, and Mrs. Ray Fish who owns and operates the "What Not Shop" in Campbell with her husband, Mr. Ray Fish.

Movie Benefit

Moreland PTA Library is just a year old. The library is a real part of many of the boys' and girls' education. Many students joined their neighborhood libraries this summer and during this last year have made real friends with many books. This was the hope of the parents when they started the school library. It is a problem to try to keep up with the varied requests for certain books. The County Library has been very helpful but they have many schools to serve.

During Book Week, November 13 to 19, Moreland pupils will be selling tickets for a movie benefit which will be held at the Saratoga Theatre on Big Basin Way in Saratoga on Friday and Saturday, November 18th and 19th. Adult tickets will be 60c and children's tickets will be 25c. Tickets are good for any one show, Friday night, Saturday afternoon, or Saturday night. There will be only one showing each evening starting promptly at 7:15 p.m. The two shows to be shown will be "Green Grass of Wyoming," a horse story in technicolor and "It Happens Every Spring," with Ray Milland, a baseball comedy.

Every child who sells five adult tickets will receive a free ticket to the movie and a "lucky" ticket to deposit in our prize box. During assembly on Friday, November 18, prizes will be given to those who have sold the most tickets and a prize to the "lucky" ticket holder.

Get busy, children! We will soon have our library full of books that we've been looking for. We're counting on the parents to help us make this as successful as their library project of last year.

Scout Post Groups Meet

Mothers Club of Explorer Scout Post II met Wednesday, November 2, later joining the committeemen, who also met that evening, for dessert of apple pie a la mode and coffee. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Dorothy Sisemore and Mrs. Molly Roseborough.

A PEEK at the STARS

Marie Wilson, star of CBS popular comedy, "My Friend Irma," is trying to get the role of the dumb blonde in "Born Yesterday," a picture which Columbia Pictures is bound and determined must star Rita Hayworth, if and when the princess decides to return. Why Marie isn't given the chance is beyond comprehension. Certainly she is more the type—she's beautiful, shapely and would

M. WILSON be perfect in the part... the picture itself, if done right, will be box office without Miss Hayworth or any other "name"...

If movie producers would start casting according to talent rather than name they might come up with some good films... it's possible.

PLATTER CHATTER

VICTOR: Vaughn Monroe Just keeps rolling out the hits and his latest is no exception... "Somebody" is a honey and is heading places... The reverse has "And It Still Goes"...

Claude Thornhill gives nice treatment to "Who Do You Know in Heaven" with a gay little number, "On the 5:45" on the flip... An unusual number that might conceivably make the grade with the teen crowd is "The Shade Went Up" as rendered by Johnny Bradford... He does "The Girl from Jones Beach" as the coupling... Wayne King, the perennial favorite, comes up with another good combo—"We'll Still Be Honeymooning" and "My First Love, My Last Love, for Always."

MERCURY: Eddy Howard follows his successful "Room Full of Roses" with another winner, "Maybe It's Because," done in his best heart-throb manner... "Tell Me Why" is on the flip... Frankie Laine does well with his latest, "Now That I Need You," a ditty tailored for him... He combines it with "My One, My Only, My All"...

And Vic Damone joins the Mercury parade with two consecutive hits... He follows his best-selling "You're Breaking My Heart" with "My Bolero."

SENIOR GIRL SCOUTS TROOP 6

The cafeteria of Trace School, San Jose, was the setting of the annual Junior High get-together Thursday afternoon, October 27, sponsored by the program committee of the San Jose Girl Scout Council.

Betty Jean Bailey represented her troop and gave a talk to the Junior High School girls telling them what her troop had been doing since it was organized. The girls seemed very much impressed at how active the Senior Girl Scout Troop is in Saratoga.

Mrs. R. W. Williams, chairman of the established camp committee, led the girls in singing Girl Scout songs, and Mrs. Irving Cassell, program chairman, conducted the program. All Junior High girls of the San Jose area were invited to the get-together.

The first Southern newspaper was published in 1736.

Scout Enrollment May Reach 3000

Nine new Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers registered at Boy Scout headquarters for each day during the month, is the record of growth shown for October by the County Boy Scout Council, according to Vinton Matthews, chairman of the organization and extension committee. The council closed the month with an all-time enrollment high of 2704 boys registered.

Leading this large group of boys are 93 Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Senior Units throughout the county with a total of 1028 adult leaders. These people are giving of their time as volunteers serving as cubmasters, scoutmasters, explorer counselors, assistance unit leaders, committeemen and council members.

Boys, through the scouting program are being taught how to become men of character, trained in citizenship, under the American way of life.

New units and additional enrollment in existing units during next two months will bring a predicted membership of 3000 boys by December 31.

Scouting serves all boys through established institutions from 8 years of age through 18. The younger boys, 8 to 11, are Cub Scouts. The 11 to 14 age group, Boy Scouts, and the Explorers, 14 to 18 years of age. Each group has a distinctive program built for boys of their age group.

Service to the institutions from the council office is made possible through the various Community Chest Red Feather campaigns conducted in the communities of the council.

School Carnival Attracts Crowd To Moreland Events

Moreland school was a happy hunting ground for herds of little Indians, goblins and ghosts on the evening of October 31. It was carnival time with everything from pumpkin pie to pizza being served in the classrooms where each group also played games.

Mothers who served in the classrooms were dressed in costumes of the country represented by the food they served. Countries included Sweden, China, Japan, Italy, the United States, and others.

Highlights of the evening were a puppet show sponsored by the kindergarten room and produced by Mrs. Viola Straight and family; costume judging, and a play by the school dramatics club. The puppet show is to be presented at Hart's in San Jose during Christmas week.

Costume prize winners were: primary division, Dennis McVey and Nancy Ballantyne; intermediate division, Bonnie Barrett, Nancy Bitzer and Darryl Ritsch; upper division, George Wall and Duane Fissel.

Final event of the evening was the play, "The White Phantom," presented by the Moreland Dramatics Club under the direction of Mrs. Geraldine Barr. Students who took part were: Gwen Robertson, Gail Robertson, Ronald Todd, Kathleen Harp, Carolyn Harp and Barbara Tighe.

Approximately 500 persons attended the carnival.

Home Economics Club Election

Cupertino Home Economics Club met at the King Poultry Ranch on Tuesday, November 1, with Chairman Dorothy Erickson presiding and Ruth King as hostess. A vote of thanks was given members who assisted in the booth at the Cupertino School Parent-Teacher carnival.

A check was received from the Pomona H.E.C. for the local share of receipts from the Grange Strawberry Shortcake booth at the recent Santa Clara County Fair.

The group decided to send a bluebird package for the drawing at the State H.E.C. breakfast in Sacramento during the State Grange convention. Plans for the Christmas party which was announced at the last grange meeting, were discussed but not completed.

Annual election of officers will be the principal item on the agenda at the next session and all members are requested to attend. The meeting will be at the home of Jane Garrod on Mt. Eden Road at 2 p.m., Tuesday, December 6.

Attending the November meeting were Chairman Dorothy Erickson, Ruth Blair, Dollie McAllister, Dorothy Sorensen, Grace Wallin, Mary Breeding, Maxine Grevstad, Frieda Angelo, Nella Severs, Alice Corp, Florence Sheffer, Jane Garrod, the hostess, Ruth King, and Elizabeth Wood. After the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess.

THE FARMER'S CORNER

By RALPH H. TAYLOR
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

Brushing aside the carefully built up myth of "security" which is being foisted on the American public as the true purpose of government expansion into the field of individual initiative, the most casual analyst can observe that the political trend in Washington is toward statism.

For the grasping hand of government is reaching out constantly to direct more and more of each American's way of life on the promise that security can be traded for liberty.

To be truthful, and exact, the government planners who propound the theory of statism (although never by that name) are correct. To offer absolute security is to deny the right of personal initiative. In truth, the only people to have absolute security are prisoners and slaves who need not worry about shelter, food, or any of the other necessities of life. No one wants to be a prisoner; an overlord provides these things for the fruits of the slave's efforts.

The American people, however, are not conditioned to slavery. If security plainly carried that price tag, it would be refused.

Thus the advocates of an all-powerful government, such as exists in Russia and to a somewhat lesser extent in England, are careful to wrap their plans in words like "national welfare", "in the public interest", and again, "security."

That people can be sold these plans in the above manner is obvious. While each segment of the economy will condemn government intervention on behalf of others, it is quick to approve it in its own case.

Business cries for protective tariffs. Labor wants price controls—though not wage controls—and government regulation of business subsidies. And some farmers too often, seize upon high, rigid price supports—which of necessity bring acreage allotments and government quotas on crop production.

The politicians are only too quick to fall in line with this scheme of things. It means continuation in office—and power.

The road to statism is not one which is well marked; nor is it always easy to tell when a proposal will lead to it.

During the recent session of Congress, for instance, there were proposals that the Federal Government should be given authority to seize plants, facilities, and mines in labor disputes—"in the public interest."

It was argued that the public be protected in this way from costly strikes brought about by unthinking management or too-powerful union bosses.

To the contrary, as pointed out by John D. Battle, Executive Vice President of the National Coal Association, "No proposal ever sounded more innocent, yet was fraught with such potential danger to our American way."

"Government seizure," Battle pointed out, "means that militant labor leaders are given authority to force the seizure of industries at will. They are in position to precipitate seizure by exorbitant demands. Thus, 'government seizure' is really 'labor union seizure' in essence."

"Once it takes place, the government finds it extremely difficult to terminate. The labor organizations will not permit return of the properties except under conditions satisfactory to them. This means capitulation to the very people whose action is responsible for the seizure."

Concluding, Battle explained that "government seizure as a permanent policy can lead only to nationalization, not only for natural resources, but for all major industries; in fact, government seizure is temporary nationalization."

"And nationalization will inevitably lead to lowered production, less efficient distribution, abolition of competition, higher costs, growth of statism, loss of personal freedom for labor and management, and ultimate destruction of representative government."

America must soon make its decision. Each expansion of government is another step toward statism—a philosophy which means the end of the American way of life. It might be well to remember that the people of England have been given security by government and so have the people of Russia. With it, hand in hand, goes statism.

Each room has been decorated in a different motif. Visitors enter the first dining room where tables are covered with gray floral prints on a black background. Black and white hangings, the white mantel and the brick wall blend with the table service of milk glass.

To the rear is another dining room where the furnishings of maple set off the dainty green and white leaf design of the wall paper. The gift room is toward the front where all manner of antiques and delightful gift items line the shelves for the idea seeker.

The Wayfarer's symbol is an old-fashioned buggy which is reproduced on the colorful menus. The real buggy will be drawn up at the front door, carrying out the early American theme of the shop.

Luncheon will be served daily except Wednesday and, for the present, Sunday, from 12 to 2:30 p.m. Tea will be served until 5:30 p.m.

Message From Lt.-Gov. Knight To County Farmers

By Lt.-Gov. Goodwin J. Knight
(Exclusive to Saratoga Observer and The Campbell Press)

In these days of industrial upheavals resulting from the inability of Labor and Management to get together without long and costly work stoppages, I often think of the American farmer, and thank God that in the fields of agriculture and horticulture the "men behind the plow" carry on determinedly despite bewilderment, discouragement and disillusionment.

Every day 4½ million meals must be placed on American tables. That vast quantity of food is grown by the toil and sweat of the farmer. Industry, Labor, Capital—everything that goes to make up a great nation—depends on those meals. If the farmer were to fail to produce for just one week, our civilization would collapse. Chaos would take over. No philosophy, no amount of money, no laws, edicts nor political expediency could save us. There would be just one means of salvation, and that would be to have the farmer start producing again.

Agriculture is the basis of our existence. As the farmer goes—so goes the nation.

The processes of farming due to soil depletion have become so costly that even when prices are high, few farmers can make a profit. The invasion of soils and plants by increasing hordes of insects takes a toll of at least one-fifth of all crops. The attacks of harmful fungi and bacteria on crops grown in mineral robbed soils are thought to destroy another 20 per cent. The costs of attempted control are high, and when the crops are finally harvested, the farmer is still uncertain as to what prices he will get.

Oh, I know that Government guarantees up to 90 per cent parity on certain basic crops, but the sad truth is that such payments seldom go to the men who grow the 4½ million daily meals for our tables. The average yearly profit of American food growers is less than $800 a year.

It is time, and high time, that those in authority do something about this condition. I do not pretend to have the answer, but I am looking for it. Sometimes I feel that I would like to call a mass meeting of all farmers who feel they are trapped in a hopeless struggle to pay off their mortgages. I would like to hear their sides of the story. I would like to get suggestions from them as to what means and methods they would employ to once again make the farmer an independent, proud and prosperous producer of basic commodities.
